Leaves Are Falling

Leaves are falling, leaves are falling,

One fell on my nose.

Leaves are falling, leaves are falling.

One fell on my toes.

Leaves are falling, leaves are falling.

One fell on my head.

Leaves are falling, leaves are falling.

Yellow, orange, red.

Makaton

We are learning these Makaton signs:

Yes

No

Independence

Putting on our shoes and coats, learning to dress and undress, using the toilet and washing our hands, and using cutlery to eat are all skills that we need to learn. We will be supported to learn and practice these skills as we settle and grow more and more independent.

Families

As part of 'Black History' month, we celebrate our diverse cultures and communities. Through stories, art, songs and dance and cooking children will enjoy learning about the different and unique contributions of cultures that makes us all richer.

We are welcoming and inclusive; we would love to have parents in to read or tell stories, share songs or to do even do some cooking with our children. Please speak to staff in your child's class if you feel you would like to join in.

Creative Arts

Our art will also be inspired by beautifully illustrated 'It's Okay to Be Different' by Todd Parr.

We will be encouraged and supported to create with paint, crayons and play dough.
